To the First Moss ... Whatting voice is thin I
Shrill, wharp, but amail as:
Half waking up a long
Dwells on my startled ear;
I'm wide awake though nowInfatile monster? is it thou?
It is, I vow.
Thou'rt come!
No other earthly tone
Is like those own.

I've heard all sorts of noise-I've besnd all sorts of noise— Yells of uprestrious buys; The yelp of lockless flying cur who feels The jingling keitle his hoels; Of swinish herd the grout, Whichsays so plain, "I wont;" The flendish wall, the spit, the splutter Of rival cash high perclied in gutter; The ratiling trains flore scream Brocking my midnight dream; Rude tavern guests, late into town.

Rude tavern guests, late into town, Who slam their doors, their bouts don down. And far from blessing take And far from blessing take
From slumberers set awake;
Planos mingling chords the blood to freeze,
Pats-fisted orchins thumping on the keys;
Stesme-music's most spasmodic paut,
Asking great diamnec to cochant,
Dry cart whoels creating up a crooked hill;
A thousand spinning junies in a mill:
And that wild din unparalleled on earth,
Of the dread night before the, Glarious
Fourth.
But for a teasing, dogged, desparate note,
To you the pain I vote!

Those end,—or we may fly;
Most ills in time goby;
From you there's no recape—your pipe—
A scold's fret is only type;
Not more incessant then your strain
Upon the chains above the main;
Droning—'I must have blood—
I smell the crimon fluod—
And I must live'—the pirale's plea—pray
why?
I think you'd better die.

Whew ! whow ! no nearer come, With that confounded hom, Blooteneking jump of ill!
Away with your long bill,
I know your grandino her, last success,
A sly dog, and experienced hummer,
Perdu he kent repeating all the day,
in some dark crevien sough slowed away;
in valo my moraing him, my nightly quest
He resied quiet till I sought my rest;
Justian my weary lids began to droop,
Second on his trumpes, projekt to the sween Street op his frampet, priside to drop,

I fing my arms about—a map I fregord—
Sage or threese was van—alike he trained
When I seth very cautions slep,
My meal organ hit a rap, I herer knew marquito.

More sorry his hale to the too.

At last I gave the contest no.

To shoulder I—and he to sup.

Hush !-hush ! meth oks I feel Hush! --hush! meth oks I fee!
A gency inthing heel;
And now a share protosocis
Quie to my mose too close is;
Brought slowly round with care
My hand has possed in ar;
Hand! ali, I have you' st—
Wreich you are dead at last,
Good by, good by, but nover,—
I think I will turn over.

No one remedy is louder entire for by the necessities of the American people than a sure and safe care for Fevre and Aque. Such a remedy we are now enabled to offer, with a perfect certainty that it will eradicate the discuse, and with assumine, founded on proof, that no harm can arise from its use in any quantity.

That which protects from or prevents this disorder must be of interness survice in the comminities where it prevails. Prevention is better than cure, for the patient escapes the risk which he must run in violent strucks of this halfful distemper. This "Curan" expels the miasmatic poison of FEVER AND ACTE from the system, and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever yet discovered for this close of coinplaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it system allows, where Fevers body and in bullets allows, where Fevers body should have it, and use is freely, both for cure and protection. It is hoped this price will pale of it within the reach of all—the poor as will as the Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the missimile poison. A great visiety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralpia, Rhoumatlan, Gou, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asshma, Palpitation, Painfal Affection of the Spleon, Hysterica, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and Decangement of the Stomuc's, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the Intermittent type, or become periodical. This "Cum" expels the poison from the Islood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants, and persons travelling or temporarily reading in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally, or daily, while exposed to the infection that will be exercted from the system, and caused accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than care, and faw will over soffer from Intermittents, if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.
